OUR CHILDREN AS OUR MIRROR

with

Dr. Jennifer Johnston-Jones
Licensed Clinical Psychologist

Has your child ever said something or done something that's made you cringe a little, and wonder, "Where did that come from?" Then, slightly stunned, you realize, "Oh, that's me." Our children reflect who we are and not who we think we are or want to be -- and this can be an incredible gift!

Dr. Jennifer Johnston-Jones will guide you through an in-depth experiential discussion which will help you understand yourself better as you understand your children. Based on the Psychology of Happiness, Attachment Theory and Nonviolent Parenting, you will leave with five tools to help you grow your relationship with yourself and your child(ren).
